FISH

A fish is a cold-blooded vertabrete that lives in water and has gills. Fish have a long, scaly body. Instead of arms or legs they have fins and a vertical tail fin. Fish can refer to a singular fish or also multiple fish. The word fishes is apparently not a real word, even though it sounds okay and everyone would understand you if you used it in a sentance.

Fish live in many different bodies of water, from small ponds to the depths of the oceans. There are so many species of fish that live in so many places that we still are discovering new ones all the time. There is a fish that is solid under the pressure of the deep water where it lives, but if you bring it to the surface it is a gooey blob. And yet it is still a fish. I think we could all learn something from that fish, but I'm not sure what that is.

People catch and eat fish, both for sport and for necessity. Fish are the only animal where adding "ing" to the end of their name means hunting and killing them. We call it fishing. Fishing is thought of as a relaxing care free time in nature. Obviously the people who think that way are not considering the perspective of the fish.

In this zine you should expect to see a wide variety of fish, both real and imaginary. They might be living lives like humans do or they might be on the end of a hook. Either way a different artist has made each page of this zine. We met at Le Voyeur on Sunday February 2, 2025 at 7pm, picked the prompt and started making pages. It has been snowing here in Olympia today, so I am greatful to all the drawers who braved the elements to draw some fish here at Le Voyeur. Turn the page and see a salmon, a carp, a cod, or even a halibut (and more). It's a fishy issue that you won't forget!

Some Days the Dragon Wins

Duck friend says she wants to supplement her bread diet. You know what that means?
GONE FISHIN'
Woah! I already got one on the line?
Hey! Look at this fish, yummy!
My turn!
This is a nice fish for you!
How 'bout this fish, duck?
Duck friend is now asking us if we know what a fish is.
Seriously, duck? You don't want ANY of THESE FISH?!

I'm not sure what it is but they sure eat a lot of them... what do you think about that?

The Night Drawer is a drawing night and collaborative art zine made every week on Sundays at Le Voyeur in Olympia, WA. At 7pm a new prompt is chosen from the drawer and eveyone is invited to make a page inspired by that prompt. No one knows what the prompt will be beforehand, but anyone can add new prompts into the drawer at any time. All the pages are collected and made into this zine. The Night Drawer is open to the public and welcomes artists of all styles and skill levels.

This week's artists are:
